

New BEGINNINGS

Relocating to foreign climes can be a daunting prospect. Holdun Family Office based in the Bahamas explain to James Matthews why in the current climate, it's a decision you will not regret Imagine taking a conference call while soaking up panoramic views of the Caribbean, conducting a board meeting steps away from a white sandy beach or holding a company brainstorming meeting against the backdrop of peaceful mangrove forests.

Across the Caribbean, dreams can become reality. Embrace the island lifestyle and immerse yourself fully in the bespoke luxury, adventure, culture and beauty of the Caribbean - the care-free corner of the world.

Revive your work-life balance and discover why the Island lifestyle is the perfect new beginning for you.

CARIBBEAN COMFORTS

- Relaxed lifestyle – marine environment

Islands such as Barbados, Bermuda and the Cayman Islands have now unveiled new global citizen programmes designed for digital nomads looking to take advantage of the flexibility provided by remote work.

As thousands of corporations opt to keep their workforce at home for the foreseeable future, eligible professionals and families can now significantly upgrade their home offices by choosing to live and work remotely along the idyllic Caribbean coastline.

Aside from just promising a serene setting from which to work and live, these islands offer sanctuary amidst an ongoing health crisis. The British overseas territory of the Cayman Islands, has proven its economic stability time and time again, has effectively protected its citizens throughout the pandemic, implementing testing protocols, tracing procedures and public health solutions that have positioned the destination as a leader in combatting the health crisis.

There has never been a better time to take the leap and escape to your choice of safe and beautiful, Covid-free islands. So, what are you waiting for?

Relocation can be a daunting prospect. At Holdun, we have been through it ourselves, moving from Canada to set up our family offices in The Bahamas and The Cayman Islands. Leverage our experience and expertise to build your future too.

Our concierge service can guide you and your family through all aspects of living and working in the Caribbean. From establishing a Family Office to wealth management and everything in between. With offices in the Cayman Islands and The Bahamas, we deliver a full suite of services. We can connect you to a network of support in the Caribbean that will ensure you achieve your personal and business investment goals.

As more and more of us have the opportunity to work from anywhere, why not work from paradise?
